PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Hello INAIR Colleagues,

It is hard to believe that the 2020 INAIR Conference is only a month away. Thank you to everyone who has registered for the conference thus far and there is still time to do so which I strongly encourage.

Sharon Wavle has been tirelessly planning what looks to be a fantastic conference filled with pre-conference workshops, excellent presentations and an engaging keynote. There are rumors that the snack break brownies from last year will be making a return appearance.

We will also be filling the roles of Vice President/Conference Chair, Secretary, and Membership Chair at our annual business meeting. Thanks to those who have reached out with interest in volunteering and a big thanks to the outgoing members of Tony Parandi and Bridgett Milner for their service. If you are interested in being a bigger part of INAIR please reach out as there is always room for more volunteers.

You, the members, are the heartbeat of the organization and help keep it going forward. I am honored to be a part of this association and cherish the wonderful IR colleagues I have met because of INAIR. Thank you for allowing me to serve and I look forward to seeing everyone at the conference in March!

Robbie Janik

Data Day: MPH Hosted It's Third Annual Event at the Indiana Statehouse

Have you ever wondered what ICHE does with all that raw data we send to them? One of the things they do is hand it over to the Management Performance Hub \(MPH\) for analysis. MPH is a state office that is charged with connecting a wide variety of data sources to help Indiana lawmakers, as well as other constituents, in making data-informed decisions.

Each year MPH hosts an event called Data Day, whereby attendees can see the various projects that utilize statewide data. This year's event was held on January 22nd at the Indiana Statehouse. MPH provided multiple presentations on projects such as:

- The Future of Data
- 21st Century Talent Regions Data Display
- Facilitating Data-Driven Innovation: Education and Workforce Data

Data Day brings together a wide range of data partners such as ICHE, FSSA, DWD, among others. For more about this year's Data Day, click here.
